COLONEL DAVID C. MOREAU

Colonel David C. Moreau is the Air Reserve Component advisor and director of executive support, Headquarters Air Force Civil Engineer Support Agency, Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla. He advises the Air Force civil engineer, the agency commander and Headquarters Air Force Center for Environmental Excellence commander on utilization, participation, training and availability of Air Reserve Command units and personnel. He advises Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve Command coordinators, directors and individual mobilization augmentee supervisors on these matters. He also maintains liaison with the Air Reserve Personnel Center, Air Force Personnel Center, Headquarters Air Force Reserve Command, and Air National Guard Readiness Center on behalf of the Air Force civil engineer. As director of the agency's executive support directorate, the colonel has oversight responsibility for internal agency programs including budget, professional communications, Quality and headquarters section.

Colonel Moreau entered the Air National Guard in 1969 as a part-time Guardsman, and served an eight-year enlistment as a flight line mechanic for the 145th Airlift Wing at Charlotte, N.C. He was commissioned at the Academy of Military Science, Knoxville, Tenn., in 1978, and returned to the 145th Airlift Wing to serve as a part-time C-130 navigator. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte in 1981 and in 1983 became a full-time member of the 145th Airlift Wing as the assistant base civil engineer. He has extensive civil engineer experience as an Air National Guard Base Civil Engineer for nine years.

Colonel Moreau married the former Sara Frances Welch of Charlotte, N.C. They have one daughter, Katie.
